

May 2002

---

Dr. Alan Garscadden

PR scientist named as AIAA Fellow

by Karen Katzenbach, ASC Public Affairs

WRIGHT-PATTERSON AIR FORCE BASE, Ohio — The chief scientist for the Air Force Research Laboratory Propulsion Directorate, is one of 34 international researchers recently elected to the grade of Fellow by the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics. The institute presented Dr. Alan Garscadden as a Fellow at their Global Air and Space'02 International Business Forum in Arlington, Va. on April 22.

Garscadden received the honor for his contributions to the fields of non-equilibrium plasma, energized gas flows, laser-based measurements, plasma processing of thin films and plasma effects in fuel ignition.

"Dr. Garscadden has long been the driving force behind scientific excellence in the propulsion directorate...not only in the area of plasma physics, but across our entire research program in propulsion and power." said Col. Al Janiszewski, Director of the Propulsion Directorate

Garscadden is also a Fellow in the American Physical Society and the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers. @

Continued on page 2